GROSVENOR ROOM RESEARCH GUIDES

Start with a guide! Our librarians have created many guides designed to help you use the collection. Each guide highlights specific Grosvenor Room resources as well as websites, organizations, and local institutions.

Printed guides are available at the Grosvenor Reference Desk and are online at:

<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/grosvenor/guides-publications>

Subjects covered:

- Ethnic Genealogy: Locate resources specific to locating ancestors with African American, Canadian, German, Irish, Italian, Jewish, Latin American, Native American, and Polish backgrounds.
- Vital, original records: Resources for birth, marriage, and death records; death notices and obituaries; church and cemetery records; land and property records, naturalizations, passenger lists, and immigration records.
- Census: Details the various indexes and microfilm available for Federal & NY State census
- Military: Tracing ancestors involved in major conflicts including the War of 1812, the Revolutionary War, and the Civil War.

BUFFALO COLLECTION

Our local history collection consists of over 4,000 volumes about people, places, and events in Buffalo and Erie County. Includes the popular Scrapbook collection: 400 volumes of newspaper articles, compiled between 1930 and 1975. The scrapbooks are indexed in the Local History File (see below), a starting place for articles on your ancestors.

CARD CATALOGS

- “Local History File”: A selective local newspaper & book card index. Can be used to find information on people, places, and events. It includes citations for many obituaries from the Buffalo News and the Courier Express. Most comprehensive for 1930 to 1982.
- Grosvenor Genealogy Catalog: Index to published genealogies, mostly Anglo-American, colonial-era families. To find individual family histories, search under Brown Family, Jones Family, etc.
- Family Crest File: Card index of coats of arms found in our heraldry collection; illustrations are often included.

CENSUS RECORDS

Census records are the backbone of American genealogical research. The Grosvenor Room has every surviving Federal and State census microfilm for Erie County. In most cases, we have federal census films for the rest of upstate New York as well.

Our separate guide titled New York Census Microfilms and Indices in the Grosvenor Room shows specifically what census films and indices we own for New York State.

All Federal census and some NY State years can also be searched online with Ancestry Library Edition and Heritage Quest databases.

Ward Maps: To assist with census research, we have maps depicting ward boundaries from 1840 to present. For census-taking purposes, city wards were also divided up into enumeration districts (EDs). The Grosvenor Room has ED maps for Buffalo for 1900-1930.

CHURCH & CEMETERY RECORDS

Our microfilm collection includes many local church records (mostly Roman Catholic) of baptisms, confirmations, marriages, and deaths. Several churches maintained cemeteries and kept records of burials, and the collection includes these and other cemeteries. Microfilmed records of Forest Lawn, Buffalo's largest cemetery, are now in the collection of the Western New York Genealogical Society, located in the Grosvenor Room.

See these separate guides for specifics: Church Records in Microfilm and Print and Cemetery Records for Erie County, NY.

CITY DIRECTORIES

Generally published on a yearly basis (with some exceptions) and list every adult resident in the city. Early years usually provide an address and occupation.

We have a complete collection of Buffalo City Directories from 1828 to the present. Most years are available in print in our collection. 1828-1993 are also available on microfilm. In order to preserve the original Buffalo directories, all photocopying must be done from the microfilm versions.

NEW! Buffalo Directories, 1832-1868 are now available for searching online:

<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/grosvenor/digital-collections>

Many directories can also be searched online with Ancestry Library Edition and Heritage Quest databases.

We also own some directories from other cities in New York, other cities in the U.S., and Canada. For more information, see our City Directory guides:

<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/grosvenor/guides-publications>

DATABASES: The Library subscribes to two commercial genealogical databases and a Sanborn map database. All databases can be found on our website:

<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/research>

- Ancestry Library Edition: Includes 450 million census records from the U.S. Federal Census between the years 1790 and 1930, immigration, vital, military, court, church and ethnic records, and nationwide directories.

ENGLISH PARISH RECORDS (CA.1558 - 1837)

We have an extensive collection of Parish Records from England in multi-volume sets. Information given: baptisms, marriages, and burials with names, dates, parentage, residence, ages, and sometimes relationships. Despite omissions, they are the single most important genealogical source for England because they are the sole written evidence of births, marriages and deaths. See the following resources:

FAMILY HISTORIES

The original Grosvenor Library of Buffalo had one of the largest genealogy collections in the country. The Grosvenor Room inherited this collection and the Grosvenor Genealogy Card Catalog. It includes published family histories as well as miscellaneous material in files on Western New York families and those from various other locales, particularly the New England states.

IMMIGRATION RECORDS & PASSENGER LISTS: The Library has few actual, original passenger lists. The collection mostly includes published indexes that provide name, age, occupation, country of origin, name of ship, port of arrival, and date of arrival. These indexes are not comprehensive and do not identify every person who ever came to the United States.

For a list of the specific indexes and lists available, see the separate guide Passenger Lists: Selected Sources in the Grosvenor Room.

<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/grosvenor/guides-publications>

Comprehensive passenger lists for 1850 and after are available at the National Archives, the New York Public Library's Research Libraries Division, and the LDS Family History Centers.

Many immigration records, including passenger lists and passports, are found in the Ancestry Library Edition database.

NATURALIZATION RECORDS: The Grosvenor Room does not have any actual naturalization records, but researchers can use this index on microfilm:

Film #1059, 20 rolls
Western District Court of New York
Index to Naturalizations, Sept. 27, 1906 to 1966

The naturalization records of Erie County residents, 1827-1929, are on file in the County Clerk's office in Erie County Hall.

For more information on naturalization records, see the guide Miscellaneous Genealogical Records in the Grosvenor Room. <http://www.buffalolib.org/content/grosvenor/guides-publications>

LOCAL HISTORIES

The collection includes many histories of villages, towns, cities, and counties in New York State and New England. Many local histories usually include biographies of settlers and can often provide information on early American ancestors.

Try a Subject search in the online catalog for place names: villages, towns, cities, or counties.

Example Searches:

Rochester (N.Y.)

Hampshire County (Mass.)

Pittsburgh (P.A.)

MAPS & ATLASES

We have numerous atlases covering Buffalo, Erie County, and other NY counties. Others cover the U.S. Civil War, Ireland, Germany, Poland, and Prussia, as well as general world atlases. Many date from the mid-to-late 19th century and can be used to identify local property owners, national boundary changes, or lost villages.

The Grosvenor Room has several early maps of Western New York; of particular interest to genealogists are the Erie County atlases from 1866, 1872, and 1880.

For more information on local maps see the guide Buffalo & Erie County Atlases: Best Bets for Genealogists and House Researchers.

<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/grosvenor/guides-publications>

SANBORN INSURANCE ATLASES can be very helpful when tracing local ancestors. These highly detailed maps show buildings, houses, roads, parks, cemeteries, churches, and other structures in Buffalo. Our collection includes staggered volumes 1881 through 1963 in print, plus a 1980s set on microfilm. Sanborn maps for Buffalo and many other cities and towns in New York State can also be accessed through the “Sanborn maps of New York 1867-1970” online database.

MILITARY RECORDS

Resources to help establish an ancestor's military record, including material relating to the Revolutionary War, War of 1812, Spanish American War, World War I & II, Korea, and Vietnam. For specific information on these resources, see the following separate guides:

- ✧ Military History and Records: Selected Sources in the Grosvenor Room
[Includes all conflicts except Civil War and War of 1812, see below]
- ✧ Civil War Genealogy & History for Buffalo & Erie County
- ✧ Civil War Genealogy & History for New York State
- ✧ Civil War Genealogy & History for States other than NY
- ✧ War of 1812 on the Niagara Frontier

<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/grosvenor/guides-publications>

Regardless of where an American ancestor enlisted or fought, official records of a soldier's military service are found in the National Archives. The website of the National Archives provides helpful information about the records research process:

<http://www.archives.gov/research/military/index.html>

NEWSPAPERS

We have many local newspapers on microfilm from 1842 to the present. Selected articles from local papers have been indexed in the Library's Local History File. Below are just some of the papers genealogists can search for articles and obituaries:

Buffalo (Evening) News—1881 to the present (approximately)*

Buffalo Courier Express—1926-1982

Buffalo Times—1883-1939

Buffalo Volksfreund—1891-1969 (German-American paper)

Dziennik Dla Wszystkich—1930-1957 (Polish-American paper)

*The Buffalo News (1989-to the present) is also available online through the Library's Databases:
<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/research>

For more information on local newspapers, see the guides online:
<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/grosvenor/guides-publications>

The Grosvenor Room has a microfilmed collection of Early American Newspapers from the late 18th and early 19th centuries. These newspapers are from several eastern and southern states, including Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Vermont, and Virginia.

VITAL RECORDS

Birth, marriage, and death records provide a wealth of information on our ancestors. The Grosvenor Room has several resources that can help you discover the location of such records.

A good starting point is the New York State Vital Records Index, which provides births and marriages from 1881, and deaths from 1880. For privacy, NY State restricts the use of recent records. See our Vital Records guide for more information:

<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/grosvenor/guides-publications>

Due to privacy restrictions, researchers may only access the index for births that occurred at least 75 years ago, and marriages and deaths that occurred at least 50 years ago. While this index can identify the date and place of the life event, actual original records can be found by contacting the New York State Department of Health, or the relevant County, City, or Town Clerk's office.

For other life records sources see our separate guides:

Vital Records in the Grosvenor Room

Miscellaneous Records in the Grosvenor Room (Includes resources for adoptions, border crossings, draft cards, land & property records, naturalizations, and wills & probate records.)

<http://www.buffalolib.org/content/grosvenor/guides-publications>

INTERNATIONAL SOURCES

Our genealogy resources for other countries consist primarily of “how-to” books that can provide references to resources for a particular area. Most of the collection focuses on the Western and Eastern European countries that many Buffalonians' ancestors came from: Germany, Ireland, Italy, and Poland. The collection also includes books on researching ancestors from Canada, South America, Africa, and Asia. See a librarian for further international sources for records.

PARTNER COLLECTIONS

The Grosvenor Room also houses the collections of two local genealogical societies. These collections provide unique resources that supplement the Library's holdings:

A repository of genealogical information on early settlers of WNY, primary focus is the 8 counties of WNY: Allegany, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Erie, Genesee, Niagara, Orleans and Wyoming.
