

CHRISTINA FRANCINE, LOCAL AUTHOR

THE WOMAN IN GREEN FROM CROMARTY: A LEGEND

SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 2025 @ 1:00 P.M.

Not every nightmare comes from imagination, and not every premonition from a hunch.

All Kelly wants is a fresh beginning, but when she meets an elderly woman who claims to be her great-grandmother from the 1400s, and finds an ancient evil that wants her young baby's blood, she reaches for archaic tradition.

But something goes very wrong when a frightening troll appears at the window of her second-story apartment, and she learns her premonition is spot on: something is after her daughters. Gudrun claims she's here to stop the woman in green. Kelly disbelieves her and discounts her premonition until, in the dead of night, she finds an ancient evil hovering over her oldest daughter's bed ready to open a vein while her toddler watches.

Adults, 19 +
Registration is Required.

A drawing and book signing to follow the reading and discussion on premonition validity. 10% of the proceeds from the book sales will benefit the Aurora Town Public Library.

Christina Francine is an enthusiastic author and teacher with premonitions. Picture books: Special Memory (2021), and leveled reader series, Mr. Inker (2020). Journal of Literary Innovation published her analysis of students' writing across the nation (2016). "Friday Nights is Not a Good Time to Get Groceries," a short horror-comedy, in the anthology, A Scream in the Night 2! (2022). The Woman in Green from Cromarty, a dark fantasy novella (2024). A fantasy novel is forthcoming. In addition, she's published several articles and over 250 reviews for authors and publishers. Christina teaches both academic and business writing at the University at Buffalo. When time permits, she works with primary and secondary students in schools.

BOOKPAGE LINKEDIN BOOKBUB FACEBOOK INSTAGRAM PINTEREST GOODREADS

Individuals in need of an accommodation may contact the ADA Coordinator at access@buffalolib.org within 7 days of the program.

(716) 652-4440
www.BuffaloLib.org

Aurora Town Public Library 550 Main Street East Aurora, NY 14052